ICAST 2018 Round Up – A Bad Time To Be A Fish

By BD Staff - Jul 26, 2018

The recent ICAST 2018 trade show in Orlando, Florida was a gathering in the fishing and boating world like none other. ICAST is the place where both established giants in the fishing industry as well as new start up companies come to “show off” and announce their latest developments and products for the upcoming seasons. There is so much stuffed into the huge convention center that it is impossible to show it all, but here are many of the highlights and exciting products that will be coming to anglers and sportsmen in the near future.

Fishing Tools & Accessories

The main goal at ICAST is for companies to introduce their new and upcoming products for the following retail season. It is a fast paced race to innovate and fine tune the latest fishing and outdoor products.

Check out the Bucket Tackle Center from Cuda. A must have.
